“Jazmin has gotten better every single year,” Vela said. “She has done everything I have asked of her. She put the extra time into her game and that is what a mature player does. She is a great player and without her, we do not accomplish a lot of things.”

Brooklyn Baptista registered 12 points for Ross, who made just 5-of-21 3-pointers.

“It was a great season,” Vela said. “Even with losses, this loss does not define what we accomplished. It does not define what we are as a team. These girls are close and they love playing basketball.”

Braelyn Horn played in her final game Saturday for Fremont Ross.
