We Wuz Robbed!!! . . .

One of the wire services has announced its mythical all-Ohio scholastic cage combines and like the old hen with one chick, our feathers are ruffled and we are rushing to the attack. That it is against a myriad foe—a whole flock of sports editors throughout the state who sent in ballots—and that it won't do any good, means not a thing to us. The fact that a charge at the windmill won't mean nuttin' either means not a thing as well.

Well, sir, and now—the punks put Fremont's Snooks Jenkins not on the first team, not on the second nor the third team. No, sir! They shoved him clear back in the honorable mention column with a whole bunch of players who couldn't carry his trunks, in the parlance of the court. And we don't mean judicially speaking.
