

Ross Makes Willard Second Victim, 92-52

Doren Sets Mark With 34 Points

WILLARD — The high-scoring cagers of Fremont Ross high school continue to scorch the nets here last night against Willard high.

Coach Al Ziemke's squad gave the Railroaders a 92-52 lacing, their third lop-sided defeat of the season. It was victory No. 2 for the Little Giants, who meet Elyria in Fremont Saturday night.

Dean Doren, 6-4 center, scored 34 points for a new school record for a single game. The old mark of 29 was set two years ago against Shelby by John (Big Thunder) Lewis, Fremont's fabulous all-around athlete who is now at Michigan State.

Doren got off to a slow start, as did most of his mates, but he banged in 14 points to lead a 30-point, second-quarter assault. Doren, a senior, scored four points in the first quarter, 14 in the second, nine in the third and seven in the fourth.

Jack Baron, senior guard, contributed 19 points and forward Larry Miller added 15. Sub Charlie Black came through with 13 points.

Lyle McLaughlin was Willard's high scorer with 12 points. The Railroaders were hopelessly outclassed at the half, 46-18. They went on a 22-point spree in the last period to make the score respectable.

The Ross reserves, grabbing a 28-12 halftime lead, coasted to a victory over the Willard reserves, 48-42. The Fremont reserves played without Jim Tiller, promising freshman who is deficient in his studies.

Pension Plan Will Stay, Vows Frick; Owners' Meeting Today

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — "The pension plan will be abandoned only over my dead body," baseball commissioner Ford Frick declared today.

He made this vow despite the stunning affront in Atlanta last Wednesday when player representatives Ralph Kiner and Allie Reynolds refused to meet with him because he wouldn't allow them to bring their lawyer along.

His statement set the stage for today's joint meeting of major league club owners. They planned to discuss the possibility of either ending the pension plan entirely or turning it over to the players. They will also vote on a number of other player demands.

Hardly anybody feels the owners will dissolve the multimillion-dollar pension plan even though they are bitter at what they term "defamation of our character." Some, however, like Presidents Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox have expressed willingness to let the players run the plan themselves.

The owners will consider specifically a resolution passed at the Sept. 29 meeting of the major leagues Executive Council recommending that a committee be set up to study and report on procedure for ending the pension plan.

Pension plan problems were discussed yesterday by the owners in separate league meetings. No decisions were announced.

There were plenty of other developments yesterday. After several days of swapping nothing but hot air, the clubs finally completed a man-sized player trade. The Washington Senators dealt slugger outfielder Jackie Jensen to the Red Sox for southpaw Maurie McDermott and outfielder Tom Umphlett. In a lesser transaction, the Philadelphia Athletics sold veteran second baseman Cass Michaels to the Chicago White Sox for a reported $15,000.

Manager Bucky Harris of Washington appeared well satisfied with the deal that gave him a 25-year-old pitcher who won 18 and lost 10 last season and a fleet-footed 22-year-old flychaser who batted .283 in his rookie season.

Jensen, 26, whose long-ball, right-handed hitting strength should fit right in with the friendly left field wall in Fenway Park, batted only .266 last season but he drove in 84 runs and hit 10 homers in spacious Griffith Stadium.

Prospects for more player trades weren't too bright today since several of the managers had left or were on the verge of leaving town. Debate on the pension plan however, continued hot and heavy.

Frick insisted that Kiner and Reynolds had given their assent to the resolution which is aimed at terminating the pension plan and that the players' attorney, J. Norman Lewis, was in the room when it happened.

Reynolds joined Kiner yesterday in denying he ever heard any such resolution, let alone voted on it.

"I want to go on record that I have not voted to terminate the plan, as has been implied," he said. "We couldn't vote, anyway, because we have no vote in the executive Council meeting. It was my understanding that the main point in the resolution was to appoint a committee to get together and review the pension plan to see if it could be improved. As far as I know, nothing has been done."

Frick conceded that the players might not have understood the resolution, which was worded with enough legal phrases to baffle the layman.

Clay Smothers Pt. Clinton

PORT CLINTON — Toledo Clay won its second basketball game in three starts here Tuesday by swamping Port Clinton, 74-39. Ed Ward scored 24 points for the winners, while Port Clinton's best individual effort was nine points by Don Wood. It was Port Clinton's second defeat. Clay won the reserve game 71-29.
